South African Embassy Tourism Newsletter – February 2020

South Africa offers a range of accommodation options to suit just about every budget and style. Enjoy 5-star luxury hotels, boutique hotels & guest houses, game lodges, nature lodges, tented safari camps, bed & breakfasts and self-catering accommodation. Here are some quirky hotels if you enjoy an experience with a difference...

THE GRAND DADDY HOTEL

Take seven American Airstream trailers and transport them to the present-day in the city of Cape Town, then invite local artists to design the interiors according to a South African vibe. Upstairs from the city's most popular night-time street, the Grand Daddy's Airstream Rooftop Trailer Park also has serene views of Table Mountain. While there, dine at the fantastic restaurant, see a movie or have a sundowner at the rooftop sky bar.

KAGGA KAMA

After a day of quad biking, visiting Ancient San sites or hiking the Cederberg Mountains, why not stay in the actual mountain? Luxury cave rooms are nestled between iconic sandstone formations and yet it's the height of luxury. You can also choose the Open-Air suite for a comfortable night under the stars or stay over in a traditional South African hut.

TSALA TREETOP LODGE

From the entrance of formidable stone and water features to the foyer flanked by blackwoods, this setting in the trees is unlike any house you've ever stayed in. With the forest treetops enveloping you and the clatter of monkeys calling, Tsala is a place of comfort and high-end design. Choose from treetop villas or suites, indulge in delicious food and enjoy the wonderful service.

TANDA TULA

In 1976, the first-ever luxury tented safari camp was set up in the Timbavati Game Reserve. The Tanda Tula Field Camp is made up of just four tents. In the old style of East African game safaris, there is also a communal lounge tent where guests gather to share stories at the end of the day. The specific location is a prime game-spotting area, so be prepared for the sound of grunting lions and laughing hyenas late at night.
